Police Seek Physician After Body of Girl Found

NEW YORK (AP)—A widespread manhunt was pressed today for a wealthy physician, missing after dismembered parts of a young woman's body were found jammed in a sewer trap at his $75,000 Queens home.

Police suspected the body may be that of Barbara Lofgren, 19, a sophomore at New Rochelle College who has been missing since Sunday. Her mother said she went to the home of Dr. Harvey Lohringer 41, for an abortion.

Queens District Attorney Frank D. O'Connor said police were about to arrest Lohringer on two specific charges of illegal operations.

Investigators described the doctor as a free-spender with 100 suits, three cars and a girl friend who owns a home in Cuba.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents said the body apparently had been cut up with an electric saw with painstaking thoroughness.

The missing girl is the daughter of Dominick Lofgren, a resident of suburban Westchester County, a well-to-do pharmacist.

Firing Squad Executes Secret Army Killers

PARIS (AP)—Two Secret Army killers were executed at dawn today—the first to be sent before a firing squad—but former General Edmond Jouhaud remained in the death row he had shared with them.

The fate of Jouhaud, 57, deputy commander of the underground terrorist army, still rested with President de Gaulle. There was an indication de Gaulle would spare his life.

Southeast of Paris at Fort du Tron d'Enger (Hell Hole) Fort rifle volleys followed by two pistol shots—the customary coups de grace—rang out at 4:12 a.m. They brought death to Albert Doccar, 37, a former sergeant in the Foreign Legion, and Claude Piegts, 27, a civilian.

They had been convicted of slaying a police commissioner in Algiers March 31, 1961. Doccar and Piegts refused blindfolds as they faced the firing squad.

"Alm at the heart!" shouted Piegts. Just before the shots rang out he cried: "Vive l'Algérie Française" (long live French Algeria).

"Vive l'Autriche (Austria)!" "Vive la Legion!" Doccar shouted.

The bodies were buried in nearby Thiais cemetery. Doccar was a native of Yugoslavia and lived in Austria before joining the Foreign Legion in 1957. Piegts was an insurance agent in Algiers.

Doccar and Piegts stabbed to death Police Commissioner Roger Gavoury in Algiers a few weeks before Jouhaud openly turned traitor as a leader of the abortive generals' revolt in April, 1961.

Jouhaud was captured last March and condemned to death. The French cabinet discussed Jouhaud's case at a meeting Wednesday. A spokesman said de Gaulle told the cabinet men and events should be judged from the viewpoint of the nation's higher interests. This was generally construed as an indication that the president was leaning toward sparing Jouhaud.

Jouhaud reported.

Agreement Reached By Laotian Factions

Main Stumbling Block To Coalition Removed

PLAIN OF JARS, Laos (Reuters)—The three Laotian faction leaders have agreed on allocation of the key defence and interior ministries, main stumbling block in the formation of a coalition government, it was announced here today.

The announcement was made by neutralist chief Prince Souvanna Phouma after the first meeting in the latest attempt by the three leaders to set up a coalition regime.

Souvanna was meeting in this leftist-held area of central Laos with right-wing Premier Prince Boun Oum and pro-Communist Pathet Lao leader Prince Souphanouvong.

Souvanna said they had four major points on which they had to reach agreement before formation of the coalition was assured. He declined to specify.

Souvanna, who would be premier, said the unresolved issues will "have to remain vague for the present." He said he, Boun and Souphanouvong were "anxious" to reach complete agreement as soon as possible.

(In Bangkok, Thai Premier Marshal Sarit Thanarat told reporters earlier that Boun would propose that Souvanna hold the key interior and defence portfolios.)

The meeting took place on this plateau some 110 miles northeast of Vientiane, the Laotian administrative capital.

It was the fifth round of talks aimed at reaching agreement on a coalition since the Laotian leftist-rightist cease-fire was proclaimed 13 months ago.

LONDON (CP)—Britain Wednesday soberly reiterated a pledge not to join the European Economic Community until Parliament approves the final agreement after full consultation with the Commonwealth.

REVELSTOKE (CP)—An inquest has been ordered next Monday into the death of 51-year-old Ralph Victor Rogers whose car missed a curve and dropped over a 125-foot cliff between Galina Bay and Beaton.

Pearson Believes It But...

STRATHROY, Ont. (CP)—Liberal Leader Pearson said Wednesday night he accepts Prime Minister Diefenbaker's word that a $82,000,000 addition to the foreign exchange fund in May was a normal transaction.

But he said he still is puzzled about it. He doubted that his previous suggestions that foreign central banks may be helping steadily the dollar comprise any betrayal or are selling Canada short.

He said the government had hard pressed to hold the dollar at the current 92.5-cent mark in terms of United States currency and that the "confused, slipshod monkey way" the government went about devaluing the dollar was the greatest possible worry.

Earl Atter, 79-year-old former Labor prime minister, was discharged today for a London hospital where he underwent surgery on a duodenal ulcer.

Member Hits Move By Legion

HALIFAX (CP) — Delegates attending the 19th biennial convention of the Royal Canadian Legion were criticized today by a former president after they approved a resolution calling for drug trafficking to be made a capital offence.

The criticism was made by Rt. Rev. John O. Anderson of Winnipeg, suffragan Anglican bishop of Rupert's Land, who told the delegates they had "just passed legislation which makes you look silly."

Bishop Anderson said the government's attitude has been moving away from capital punishment.

He also rebuked the delegates for tossing "citizens' rights around so lightly" in approving a resolution asking the governments concerned to impress on the Hutterites in the prairie provinces "the full responsibilities of Canadian citizenship."

The resolution was later amended to include the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors sect in British Columbia.

Basic objection of the delegates was that the Hutterites, a pacifist religious colony, are exempt from military services and certain taxes.

Jack Beaumont of Minnedosa, Man., termed this situation "wishy-washy." He felt the federal government, "which imposed this curse on us, should do something about it. I'm talking about the rules which other Canadians live by and which they don't."

CHA Told How To Solve Three Hospital Posers

EDMONTON (CP) — Solutions to three problems faced by hospitals were suggested Wednesday during the Canadian Hospital Association convention.

Dr. L. O. Bradley of Winnipeg said hospital-operated home care plans could help relieve bed shortages and place care of patients on a more personal level. Dr. Bradley is administrator of Winnipeg General Hospital and past president of the Associated Hospitals of Manitoba.

Dr. Lawrence E. Ranta, associate medical director of Vancouver General Hospital, said social workers should be employed by all hospitals to "turn treatment into care."

The economic "squeeze" placed on hospitals in many provinces by provincial government agencies running hospital insurance plans could be partially solved by planning hospital construction on a regional scale, said J. A. McNab of Toronto, director of the Ontario hospital services branch.

Dr. Bradley told of a hospital-operated home care plan which operates in Winnipeg, treating about 100 patients at a time.

He said home care plans should be centrally administered, closely allied with hospital and selective in the patients accepted.

Crippled children, arthritis cases, terminal cancer cases and others would benefit from being in the atmosphere of their home rather than an "impersonal" hospital.

Dr. Bradley said good co-operation from social workers, the community, service groups such as the Victorian Order of Nurses and women's auxiliaries, and doctors in the hospital operating the plan were necessary for success.

He said the Winnipeg plan released about 35 hospital beds for treatment of short-term patients.

Dr. Ranta criticized doctors and nurses in Canadian hospitals for becoming so specialized they no longer saw the patient as a human being.

PRaises SOCIAL WORKERS
He said the only persons who can give patients the personal, psychological, human care they need are social workers. Every hospital should have a

'Nonsense!' Says Fulton

ALBERNI (CP) — Justice Minister Fulton Wednesday night described as economic nonsense suggestions that the increased price of gasoline in some centres is due to the devalued dollar.

He was answering a questioner at a public meeting at this west coast of Vancouver Island community.

A Vancouver report Tuesday quoted an oil company spokesman as saying that the devalued dollar made the price of Canadian crude on United States markets cheaper. The Canadian crude could flood the market and give the U.S. oil lobby a chance to exert pressure for quotas.

Mr. Fulton said the gasoline increase, three Vancouver companies have added a cent to the price per gallon, is not caused by the federal government's pegging the dollar at 92 cents American.

He said the devaluation had amazing results on B.C. industries. He referred to the "healthy condition" of the fishing, forestry, mining, livestock, fruit and tourist industries.

Canadian Legion Approves Plain Maple Leaf Badge

HALIFAX (CP) — The Royal Canadian Legion has given formal approval to its new badge, a move that passed without the stiff opposition expected from the floor of the Legion's annual convention here.

Although the new badge, which bears a Latin motto and replaces a maple leaf superimposed on the Union Jack with a maple leaf on a plain field, was introduced two years ago it had never been formally approved by the Legion. The 1,200 delegates gave this approval Tuesday with the proviso that the old badge "may be freely worn."

There were some brief words of opposition from unidentified legionnaires but the resolution was quickly passed. The new badge bears at the base the word "Legion." The old badge had the words "Canadian Legion." The Latin motto means "We will retain their memory," with the words

Normal Weather In May

It will come as a shock to most people, we believe, but our May weather has NOT been colder than normal.

Weatherman R. P. Walrod reports that the mean maximum for the month in Kelowna was 63.97 while the mean minimum was 41.35. This works out as an average temperature of 55 degrees.

In the department of agriculture "climate of British Columbia" report it records that the average temperature for May in Kelowna over a period of 42 years has been recorded as 55 degrees. Thus, May 1962 temperature-wise was just average. Believe it or not!

And Kelowna had less rain than average during the month. We had just about a third of our normal rainfall. The long-term average is recorded as 2.6 or roughly an inch.

Mr. Walrod reports that in May this year we had only 1.1 of an inch, or just about one-third of an inch. It took 11 of the 31 days to produce that third of an inch.

There were some cold nights. The coldest was the 5th with 17 degrees, but it was 32 on the 4th and 31 on the 7th. Only on five nights did it not drop below 50 degrees.

The warmest days were the 21st and the 26th when it hit 75. Including these two, it was over 70 on 10 of the 31 days.

The rest of the time it was in the 60s, excepting four days from the 2nd to the 6th, when the best it could do was to climb to 57, 56, 53 and 58 respectively.

JH Society Commended On Brief

Work of the Okanagan Committee which recently prepared a brief on juvenile delinquency was commended by the Federal Commission which met in Penitentiary on the subject.

In a letter today from the Department of Justice, John Howard Society regional director William Hesketh and chairman of the committee learned of the federal approval.

"We would be most pleased if you would pass on our appreciation to the other members of your group. I might say that our meeting at Penitentiary was most valuable. Our Committee will look forward with pleasure to receiving a detailed Brief from your organization in due course," the letter said.

The representative committee from this Valley that attended the presentation of this brief have now become a steering committee for the preparation of the more detailed brief hope to have prepared by the fall. The committee recognizes that because of time factors the preliminary brief did not reflect the total opinion of the communities and an organized attempt will now be made to get in touch with anyone who can make a contribution to this study.

East Kelowna PTA Elects Officers

Mrs. Barbara Price was elected president of the East Kelowna PTA at the annual meeting held at the school on Tuesday evening.

Other officers elected include Mrs. Eileen Neld, vice-president; Mrs. Sylvia Blackburn, secretary and Mrs. Margaret Wilson, treasurer.

A large audience was in attendance with special representation from Mission Creek and South Kelowna, to hear about and see the East Kelowna PTA's newest project, school uniforms for the girls.

Mrs. Mary Pooley, chairman of the uniform committee, spoke briefly to the parents explaining how the uniform project started, its cost to parents, and the fact that it was entirely voluntary. She said she hoped both students and parents would approve the green and white uniforms for their daughters.

Five pupils, all students at the school, modelled specially prepared demonstration uniforms and, after a discussion period, there were overwhelming approval of the uniforms. About 70 pupils, half of whom are girls, 30 parents, indicated approval as did the South Kelowna and Mission Creek cup who indicated they would try to establish a similar project within their PTA groups.

Westbank Rec. Group Approves Grant to Park

WESTBANK — With the "excellent" progress made this spring to Westbank's Aquatic Park by the Parks Board, the Recreation Commission at its June meeting agreed unanimously to make a substantial grant to assist in the financing of this transformation.

Further, Rec. Commission members set June 20 as the date for a one-day "blitz," proposed earlier this year, proceeds from which will be used for the purchase of swimming and park equipment.

Development of the Aquatic Park as a long-range project was decided on at a joint meeting of the Parks Board and the Recreation Commission at a meeting held in February. Since that time plans have been set up and work-parties held by both bodies.

Parks Board members later had the site bulldozed and leveled, and recently laid plastic pipes with attached taps for watering the entire area, which now is seeded to grass.

By means of the June 20 blitz, of which Mrs. A. L. Currie is captain, the Commission hopes to collect money to improve swimming facilities.

This will include driving of piles for a pier, the provision of at least six picnic tables, a bathhouse and firewood for the stove already in position.

Rec. Commission chairman Geoff Swift, in presenting the park report to Tuesday's meeting, said that tree planting would be one of next season's projects. Maintenance also will have to be considered in the near future.

Other activities undertaken by the Commission this spring have been the organizing of minor softball and an appeal for volunteers to coach and supervise both girls' and boys' teams.

This has met with a generous response from youngsters and grown-ups alike, and teams now are playing weekly at Peachland.

CUP DONATED

A silver cup, donated by Local 821, IBEW, Vernon, will be played for at the end of the month, when the season will wind up with a party or picnic for minor-league players.

Swin classes then will be in order, and plans are going ahead for these to be held in Westbank as formerly.

SPEAKS FRIDAY

New Democratic Party leader T. C. (Tommy) Douglas will arrive in Kelowna tomorrow to address a public meeting at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Arena. On the platform will be Okanagan-Boundary NDP candidate O. L. Jones of Kelowna.

LIBERAL CANDIDATE SAYS

Water Survey Required For Kaleden Area Too

Elmore Philpott told a public meeting in Oliver that his first act, if elected MP, would be to request the new Liberal Minister of Agriculture to authorize a survey of the water and irrigation system of Kaleden.

"The Minister has power to order such a survey under the Prairie Farm and Rehabilitation Act. Due to the initiative of Mayor Finerty of Penitentiary, the present Minister has already ordered such a survey for Penitentiary. But the people around Kaleden need attention too. Not only is their water supply inadequate, but its pollution is a grave health menace.

GOT TOGETHER

"Up in Kamloops the federal MP and the provincial MLA got together and had the two governments refinance a delapidated and decrepit irrigation system. That particular Tory and that particular Social Credit were on the job, and looked after the needs of the people.

"Where was our MP for this district?" said Mr. Philpott.

"We need a Colombo right here in the Okanagan valley. The Liberals long since made a magnificent beginning in the flood control and major irrigation project of such benefit to Oliver.

"But PIRA should be extended to the whole of B.C. We have the most abundant water supply in the world right at our front door. But people in the Okanagan are still drinking water which would poison even the toughest camel in Arabia.

Unemployment Here Takes Sharp Drop

Total 978 Seeking Work Compared To 1,102 In '62

Given Honorable Mention At Coast

A youth from Salmon Arm High School has topped 180 British Columbia students in a physics examination sponsored by the Canadian Association of Physicists.

Among students given honorable mention were James C. Anderson, Kelowna High School, and Kit Petzinger, Courtenay High School.

The mark by Milford Louis Berger of Tappen, B.C. earned him $300. The paper was prepared by members of the physics department at the University of B.C.

Among second-prize winners of $50 were Malcolm Stewart Metcalfe of Trail and Patrick Daniel Dougan of Rossland.

Armoury Theft Preliminary Continues

Canadian Army witnesses at Wednesday afternoon's preliminary hearing of charges against two former militia troopers accused of breaking into the Kelowna Armouries to commit theft outlined circumstances on the day of the incident April 1.

Appearing before Magistrate D. M. White are Edward Hickson and Robert Boyer, both of Kelowna.

The case was still continuing at press time today. Both men have elected trial by jury.

Crown witnesses yesterday included Lance Cpl. John Edwards who said he and Staff Sgt. F. Cruickshanks were on the premises the Sunday evening and after locking it up around 7:30 p.m. left.

In his testimony, Sgt. Major Frederick James Coe who is president of the composite mess said he was called by the caretaker around 10:15 p.m. when it was found the mess had been broken into and a cash box lying empty on the floor.

He said before he had left around 6:45 p.m. that night, he had counted the cash in the box.

He said he rifled through the bills and there was approximately $100 in the box. Questioned by defence counsel, he said he could have been $10 out on his guess but not $50.

Leading crown witness was Const. L. D. Stovern who testified about various conversations he'd had with the two accused prior to and after their arrest a week after the incident. Const. Stovern was investigating officer at the Armouries after the break-in was reported.

SKIERS WORKOUT

Avid water skiers Bill Gades, John Ladd and Bert Francis Pestell have scarcely missed an afternoon since the May 24 weekend for ski practice on the Kelowna waterfront. Very noticeable, too, are the number of after-work fishermen who chug out for a few hours of trolling before sundown.

Unemployment has taken an abrupt drop in the local district over the past month, according to National Employment Service figures released today by manager Alec Haig. Number of persons seeking employment in May was 978 as compared to 799 men and 537 women who were looking for work in April. Of the 978, 566 were men and 412 were women.

A year ago, 1,102 were registered at the office, 654 of whom were men and 448 women.

During May, 155 were given jobs, mostly in construction. Of the men seeking work, 79 are truck and tractor operators, 204 are registered in unskilled occupations, 61 are in agriculture and the remainder in miscellaneous occupations.

Of the women, 143 are packing house workers, 151 are looking for work in office occupations, 45 in service occupations, 34 are cannery workers and the remainder in miscellaneous occupations.

It is expected more activity will be evident in the orchards in the near future as it's reported some thinning will get underway.

The area covered by the Kelowna office extends to Peachland in the south and Winfield in the north.

Peachland PTA Names Officers

Mrs. Jeff Todd was re-elected grammar convener is to be president of the Parent-Teacher Association at the annual meeting held Tuesday evening, with Mrs. A. Coldham elected as vice-president, Mrs. Peter Spackman, treasurer. The office of secretary was not filled.

Conveners of various committees are: Membership, Mrs. H. C. MacNeill; health, Mrs. A. Oltmans; hostess, Mrs. J. Davies. The publicity and programming convener is to be named at a later date. The swim committee consists of Mrs. Arne Lowery, Mrs. Harry Birkeland and Mrs. Lloyd Bawden.

Besides the Red Cross swim classes, the PTA sponsor the Pee Wee softball, which has proved to be very popular.

Full reports of the years' activities were given in the secretary's annual report. The treasurer's annual report was also presented.

Dr. T. H. D. Horsley, of Peachland and Westbank, was at the meeting to show films on "Artificial Respiration" and to point up some simple methods on First Aid. A lively period of questions and answers followed.

Presentations were made to Mr. Norman Schulberg, who is leaving at the end of June following three years as principal of the elementary school, and to Miss Judy Osterlund who is also leaving at the end of the term.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. H. C. MacNeill, Mrs. C. R. Haker and Mrs. Gordon Sanderson.

PAINT JOB FOR 'FOGO The City's only OGOPOGO in captivity, the cement and wire replica of the Lake's fabled monster, has had his scales painted a shiny green and his friendly face lifted by city crews. The pools around the replica has also been filled and it's not an uncommon sight to see young bathers using it for a foot bath after a dip in the lake.

Pianist Takes Top Spot In Jr. High Talent Show

By BETHEL STEELE

Main criticism of Wednesday night's talent contest held at the Junior High School was the inability of young people today to communicate with an audience.

In pointing this out on behalf of the judges, Gar McKinley urged that more of them attend professional concert and learn from great artists the art of audience appeal.

Mr. McKinley said those students who had studied privately showed up to best advantage. He advised parents to see all young people had the opportunity to develop their latent talent.

The contest, the second annual one, was sponsored by the Kelowna Junior High student's council. There were 18 items on the program, representative of physical education, music and ballet.

A small but receptive audience attended. George Reid was master of ceremonies.

WINNERS CHOSEN

Judges picked Elmer Riegal, pianist as first place winner. Second place went to Wendy Dabbin for her ballet solo and in third place, there was a tie between Merla Lennan, vocalist and a fine instrumental combo made up of Farley Smith, Mike Chapman, Gayle Carr, Linda Atkinson, Stu Dawson and Reddy Wallace.

The Junior High School council would be advised to hold their annual concert earlier in the year so more people could attend and hear what these young students have to offer.

50 MINUTES BEHIND THE MAST

Ready for an evening of sailboat racing is Frank Turton, seated at the stern and Harry Cox, midships in the "White Cap" as they prepare to get on course for the third sailboat race of the season from the Kelowna Yacht Club dock. Of the six boats entered, the "White Cap" came third, the race being won by Ken Bruce in "Trade Winds". The triangular course, across Lake Okanagan to the Westside ferry dock, thence to Manahat point and back to the Yacht Club, saw some exciting sailing as competitors vied for position and a maximum wind to drive their craft into winning position. (Courier staff photo)

World's Fair Art Show -- $20 Million Of Laughs

Probably the average person attending the Seattle world's fair will not plan on visiting the art exhibit. Strictly speaking the art exhibit is not part of the fair and is located just outside the grounds. However access is very easy and it is well worth the price of admission (fifty cents?). It provides the best laugh of the whole fair. Maybe it is sacrilege to laugh at art. If so, and if this is art—I certainly committed sacrilege. And I readily admit that I enjoyed it so much I would go back again—just to laugh.

First, let me say that there are a few old masters. About thirty. And they are impressive. They mean something and convey something.

But most of the $20,000,000 display of art is modern. That probably is not the right word because the display would seem to be in keeping with the fair's theme; the art exhibit is right out of this world.

I've never been accused of lacking in imagination but I'm darned if I could fathom out what most of the artists (that word should be quoted) were driving at; I doubt if they knew themselves. If they knew, I guess I'm just too much of a clod to appreciate their efforts.

Perhaps I was more impressed than I realized because a few of the pictures (again, that word should be quoted) do stick in my mind. For instance, there was one approximately eight by ten canvas painted in solid black. I painted a wall of the house this spring. Had I used black paint instead of white, I would have created this masterpiece. Solid black, it was without a relieving color. It was called "Oneness." A single color, I suppose.

There was another, too. Probably done by the same artist and all black with a single vertical line about six inches wide down the centre. Again, a third was all in black with a six-inch wide capital M in brown. That one, was valued at $7,000 no less!

The piece de resistance of the show was valued at $100,000. Repeat $100,000. It was a large canvas which it is said took three years to do. It depicted Stalin-grad after the battle there. It may have. All I could see was white and black specks as though a million flies had spent considerable time on a huge sheet of white paper.

Then there was one which was different. The artist (again quote) had gone to a junk yard, slashed out pieces of dented fenders and glued them to a board. What he was depicting, I do not know, but it looked just like that: pieces of fenders from a junk yard.

Another artistic masterpiece was valued at $60,000. I say "artistic" because it was made in France and admitted into the U.S. as art and it was in the art exhibit. A few years ago there was a cartoonist who had his character make all sorts of silly machines. This was one such machine. It consisted of everything metallic one could imagine, from saws and bicycles to mousetraps and tin pans. Suddenly it would start to jangle. If you were admiring one of the old masters at the time, it provoked a discordant note. Some say there was rhythm to the jangle. I guess I'm just a man who has no rhythm in his soul.

These are just a few of the art exhibits which stayed with me. There were many more of all colors, all shades and all combinations. Some looked as though a can of tomatoes had been thrown at the wall. Others looked as though—but no, I'll leave that description out as this is a dignified family journal.

There were security officers every ten feet. I said to one that I sympathized with him having to look at those paintings all day. He pointed to the clean, white floor and said: "See that floor? I love it. I look at it all day." I knew just what he meant.

So, this is art. If art properly portrays the shape of things to come in the next century, I've not much hope for the future.

Still, I urge you. If you have not been to the fair and do go, do not miss the art exhibit. It is the best thing there—

For laughs.—rpm

It's Disillusioning --

In Grandpa's boyhood it was a copybook maxim that the earth was round, divided into identical hemispheres by its equator, and spinning at a precise and constant rate of speed. Man found in this celestial machinery a symbol of perfection, an ideal to inspire scientists and craftsmen to new heights of achievement. And it was some comfort to reflect that, despite wars and tempests and human perfidy, there were things one could count on absolutely; among them that the sun was sure to come up tomorrow morning exactly on schedule.

But alas, as our scientists get smarter they are discovering some of the solid assumptions on which science has been based are not so solid after all. We have learned from satellite observations that the earth is not a perfect sphere. It is pear-shaped. The Southern Hemisphere is considerably bulkier than the Northern. Furthermore, the obviously misnamed Equator is not a circle, but an ellipse; sea level at the equatorial apogee is 250 feet higher than at the perigee. And now as the final blow we find that our wobbly, misshapen planet does not even revolve smoothly. For reasons yet unknown, the spin rate goes through cycles of speeding up and slowing down, and since 1900 the earth has gotten 34 seconds off its rotation time schedule.

It's disillusioning. And also disturbing. With the world itself operating in such a sloppy manner, how can anyone expect its mere human residents to achieve excellence? We may as well be reconciled; there never will be an automobile clock that will keep running and keep time.

UIC Benefit Extension Probably After Election

By FARMER TISSINGTON
(Courier Ottawa Correspondent)

OTTAWA—The new federal government, to be elected on June 18, will come under increased pressure to extend the benefits of the Unemployment Insurance Act to farm workers in Canada.

Over the past year or two there has been an increasing demand to have seasonal farm workers qualify for unemployment insurance. At the moment, they represent the largest single group of workers who do not come under the act's provisions. Canadian fishermen were brought under the act by legislation passed in the dying days of the last Liberal administration in the spring of 1957.

And the Liberal party, in the current campaign, has indicated that it will bring as many farm workers as possible into unemployment insurance. In one party policy statement, the Liberals say that "The benefits of genuine unemployment insurance will be extended to the widest possible coverage." In another, more specific statement, they say, "Unemployment insurance should be extended to as many farm workers as possible."

And some Conservative backbench members of the last parliament were also pressing for extension of insurance benefits to farm laborers. Reynolds Rapp, a Conservative member from Saskatchewan, introduced a private member's bill in the last house, asking the government to consider putting seasonal farm workers on the same footing as fishermen with respect to such benefits.

SOME OPPOSED
But not everyone favors such a move. For one thing, the low state of the Unemployment Insurance Fund, now the subject of a study by a royal commission, leads many to believe that the present system could not stand the further drain that would be imposed by farm workers.

Others point out that such a move would only result in increasing farm costs as farmer-employers would have to bear some share of the insurance premiums paid by the workers they hired.

But Mr. Rapp and other proponents argue that modern farming demands higher degrees of skills in the operation of more complicated machinery. Unless a farmer can be assured of securing benefits in the off-season, many of those with the required skills will no longer go to work on farms.

In prior years, many seasonal farm workers were able to secure some other type of job during the winter months. In recent years, with the high levels of winter unemployment, this has not been so possible.

The problem is not a new one and has been studied by the departments of labor and agriculture since 1952. These studies showed that there are some real problems to be faced in bringing farm workers under the act.

But despite the obvious problems, government is being urged to find some solution. In recent months both the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and the National Farmers' Union have presented briefs on the subject.

The Federation says there is a very real need for a selective, if not a voluntary, program. "If a voluntary program for agriculture cannot be brought in, we would recommend early extension of compulsory coverage to those areas and/or groups of producers who have clearly indicated their desire and willingness to participate in such a program," the Federation says.

LOW INCOME

Not the least of the problems is the fact that seasonal farm workers are among the lowest paid people in Canada. A recent study shows that the average daily wage is $5.80 with board and $7.20 without. These farm wages range from a low of $5.00 in the maritimes to $7.70 in British Columbia. The Ontario figure is $6.40.

Average annual wages of male farm workers in eastern Canada is $1,320 and in western Canada, $1,435, with board.

Krupp May Gain New Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest deadline under which German industrialist Alfred Krupp would be forced to break up his empire comes up at the end of July. It probably will be extended until the end of this year, and may never be enforced.

Krupp, now 54 and believed to be one of the world's richest men with holdings estimated at more than a billion dollars, in 1945 was sentenced to 12 years in prison for war crimes. His vast iron-steel-coal complex was confiscated.

He was released from prison in 1951 and his properties were returned to him under the condition that he sell about half of his empire. He agreed and signed a deconcentration order drawn up in 1953 by the United States, Britain and France. The order has been extended several times.

Although officials here will not comment publicly on the situation, the sober appraisal of many U.S. specialists is that the three powers must sooner or later find a formula to annul the pact.

Privately, most experts say the order is outmoded and there are doubts that it ever was feasible.

HAS SUPPORT

West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is known to support Krupp's claim that he cannot get rid of the properties he is supposed to sell simply because there are no buyers.

One of the arguments voiced here against pressing the pact is that the European Coal and Steel Community, of which Germany is a member, has sufficient authority and power to prevent the unhealthy concentration of industrial might in West Germany.

The 1953 pact clearly was punitive action against the man who supplied Hitler with his war machinery. Krupp had used slave labor and plundered conquered territory to turn out instruments of war.

Thanking you,
J. H. BRIASLEY.

UNITED KINGDOM REPORT

Kim's Tragic Saga Tangled In Tape

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.)
Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON — A Toronto housewife, Mrs. Sheila Lighthall, 28, has made the 3000-mile journey back to her former home in South London and has arrived here an angry and determined woman. She has come back to London to continue her battle against red tape to adopt her little niece Kim Elundred, aged three. For nine months this battle has been going on. During that period, little brown-eyed Kim has been passed like a doll from guardian to guardian until every woman she meets is "Mummy" to her.

And for nine months Mrs. Lighthall has been fighting a postal battle across the Atlantic for the right to adopt Kim and take her home to Toronto, Ontario, to begin a new life. Neither the welfare authorities nor Kim's latest "Mummy," her grandmother, are able to take full responsibility for her.

TANGLED CASE

It has become a very much tangled case. So much so that Mrs. Lighthall became impatient and booked her passage from Toronto to England by air. She has arrived at her former home in Edward Street, Deptford, in an effort to speed things up. When she arrived she became even more impatient when she found that legal proceedings were almost at a standstill.

There are several circumstances which complicate the case. Both of Kim's parents are dead and dumb. Her father has been missing since Christmas, and in spite of strenuous police efforts, seems to have vanished without trace. Her mother, living at Sanderstead near Croydon, is perfectly willing for her to go to Canada with her aunt, Mrs. Lighthall.

But the fact that there is no definite knowledge as to whether the child's father is dead or alive is a barrier to the legal proceedings, through which Mrs. Lighthall could adopt her niece.

Mrs. Lighthall says: "I am having great difficulties. It would seem that everything is against my being able to take Kim home with me."

The latest move which Mrs. Lighthall has made is that of applying for a passport for her niece so that she might take her to Canada for a holiday. She has the idea that in Canada the legal technicalities will not be so formidable, and that adoption proceedings would be much more simple and easily arranged than in the United Kingdom.

Mrs. Lighthall is very anxious about the future welfare of her young niece. She says:

"Unless something is done soon and Kim is provided with a permanent home, it may be too late. Her whole character could change. In Toronto I am sure I can give her a good and a happy life."

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Symptoms Described

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Just what is a diseased gall bladder?—M.H.

The liver produces about a pint of bile a day, which is used for digestion. Some of this flows directly to the small intestine. The rest is stored and concentrated in the gall bladder. When needed it flows into the "common bile duct," which also carries bile direct from the liver.

Like any other organ, the gall bladder may become infected. With acute infection, there will be fever; the gall bladder may subside into a chronic state which will make the wall thicken.

There's also the problem of crystals or "gall stones"—bile salts or cholesterol crystals form and are the basis for the stones.

There may be a single stone or several, or a sand-like sediment known as "gravel." When these particles try to escape through the small bile ducts, the ensuing colicky pain can be severe.

If only the outlet of the gall bladder is blocked, there will be pain but no jaundice; if the "common duct" is obstructed, bile no longer can escape from the liver, and it backs up into the system causing the yellowness or jaundice.

Gravel or stones may be loose in the gall bladder or may stick to the mucus lining which, in turn, may develop polyps. Cancer of the gall bladder is a possibility.

An acute infection, with pus formation, is referred to as empyema of the gall bladder. Various symptoms are possible: Either sharp pain or vague discomfort in the upper abdomen, centrally or to the right centre. There may be indigestion, gasiness, belching. Pain may be referred or transmitted to the back, in the area of the right shoulder blade, and even to the tip of the shoulder.

It's not always easy to distinguish these symptoms from those of peptic ulcer, and X-ray becomes important, although with different techniques. Drinking a barium mixture outlines the stomach and duodenum in seeking an ulcer; for gall bladder the patient swallows a dye (in tablet form) the night before X-raying.

Gall bladder cases require careful treatment. I won't generalize because it varies greatly. Some cases are best handled by diet and medication; others must have surgery. And no, there isn't anything that will "dissolve gall stones."

Dear Dr. Molner: At what age should a child change from a pediatrician to another doctor?—MRS. H.

Fourteen years or thereabouts, but there's no fixed age. Many children are cared for by general practitioners, and there's no need to change as they reach adulthood.

When a youngster gets into the teens, he's likely to be a bit self-conscious about going to a "child doctor."

I likewise the pediatrician himself is usually happy to see the shift to another physician, since by the age of 14 or 15 the "allments of childhood" taper off.

NOTE TO "KITTY": This blackening, peeling, soreness and brittleness of the nails and skin around them does not resemble any known side effect from thyroid medication; it DOES sound like a fungus infection of some sort. Report it to your doctor without further procrastinating. If he suggests seeing a skin specialist, then do so. The sooner treated, the sooner relieved.

FORMER CAC PRESIDENT SAYS:

Shouldn't Be Ostrich In Sand If Free Enterprise Rapped

MONTREAL (CP)—A woman gave probably the most direct answer to one of the most troublesome questions discussed at the two-day annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, which ended this week.

The problem is how to give the public a better understanding of the private enterprise system and how to combat misunderstandings of it.

The answer came from Mrs. W. R. Walton Jr., of Toronto, past president of the Consumers' Association of Canada. In effect, it was to let no criticism go unanswered. She said:

"I believe the time has come when, through this association or other appropriate bodies, all the intelligentsia of industry should be available so that on short notice the appropriate person or group of persons could be called upon to speak to the public—from the platform, on radio, television, through the press and other media—so that no untruth derogatory to private enterprise would go unchallenged, no matter what the source of the untruth, be it private individual, government or politicians seeking political gain."

"By successfully defending the private enterprise system in this way public confidence would be regained and eventually industry could depart from the defensive and go on the offensive—the positive approach—so that those who deride the private enterprise system would think twice before attempting to destroy it by the promulgation of untruths or half-truths."

Mrs. Walton said business and industry, particularly the manufacturing industry, is neither well understood nor is the magnitude of its contribution to the economy properly appreciated.

"Because of this lack of understanding, critics of business are incessantly busy in the United States and Canada. Private enterprise is baited and ridiculed before the bar of public opinion whenever the opportunity arises."

"And what happens? Time after time these attacks, be they for political gain, personal publicity, union jockeying or most part unanswered. By this silence or ostrich-like attitude of 'no comment' you appear to be pleading guilty as charged, no matter how fantastic the charge may be."

"The trouble is that unchallenged criticism takes root and grows and in the minds of many people becomes the truth."

OUT OF HOSPITAL PILADELPHIA (AP) — Dinah Washington, blues singer and recording star, was discharged Wednesday from hospital. Attendees said the Negro entertainer entered the hospital Monday for blood transfusions for treatment of anemia.

WIFE PRESERVERS Soft cheese should be stored tightly covered in the refrigerator's coldest part. Cottage cheese should be used within three to five days, others within two weeks.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WHICH WAY TO GO: Parents who would give a 15-year-old girl permission to marry need to have their heads examined. And your son must have bats in the bachelors, too. A man 24 years old who would consider such a thing sounds like a case of arrested development.

Dear Ann Landers: Last fall our office manager decided we all needed music to calm our nerves and lift our spirits.

For the first week it was sort of a novelty. Everyone hummed, whistled or tapped their toes. Some of the younger ones danced. I didn't mind, although it was somewhat distracting. I kept telling myself I'd get used to it. I never quite made it.

Maybe I'm a sentimental fool but certain songs have special meaning for me. When I hear "Blues In The Night" or "Sunrise Serenade" or "Talk of The Town" I become completely unhinged.

Two months of night and day music set my teeth on edge. I found myself going to the washroom to escape it. Then—lo! and behold, one fine day when I opened the door to the washroom I was greeted by "You Are My Sunshine." The music man had invaded the most private of all sanctuaries.

Maybe I'm some kind of a nut or something but I don't believe it's right to force music on people. Thanks for letter me say it. — TWITCHY.

Spit and Polish Shines Up Camp

Cadets, Militia Record Likely

VERNON (Staff) — The Vernon Military Camp is taking on a new look.

An advance party of more than 50 army and civilian workers are feverishly unpacking stores, repainting buildings, mowing grass, planting shrubs, checking army vehicles, moving boot lockers into huts (more than 2,500) all in readiness for the summer onslaught of militia and cadets, expected to reach the highest number this year.

Maj. A. F. Mulse, deputy commander of the camp, confirmed work was at the height today as 2,200 militia men are expected June 30, and 1,400 cadets will take their place the middle of July.

The militia are from throughout B.C. while cadets from all over Western Canada.

By June 24, the complete permanent complement of the camp will be 785. Of these 257 are civilians.

Brig. Danby will arrive in the camp July 2 to officially take over command of the area. He will be supported by a staff from Vancouver, including medical, engineers, public relations and other key personnel.

Road-E-O Winner Given Award

Glen left immediately for Vancouver and the provincial Road-e-o championships to be held Saturday. He represents the North Okanagan and if successful moves to Victoria for the national finals late in July.

At my meeting next Monday night at Centennial Hall in Rutland I will speak specially to young Canadians who will be casting their very first votes on Monday, June 18.

Of course most people at this Rutland meeting will be older folk. But I know there will be quite a few younger citizens there, too, because some have told me so.

I feel very grateful to the young men and women of this riding who have shown such initiative and enthusiasm in their publicity efforts. The young people of West Summerland fixed up a loud speaker apparatus and enabled me to campaign Salvation Army-style outdoors on the main street corners.

Bright young married women around Westbank painted big signs on their front lawns—using dry flour to spell out "Vote For Elmore."

Another wife wrote a poem and put it up on her front window:

Old John Dief has lost his votes, and doesn't know where to find them.

Leave him alone, and he'll go home, dragging promises behind him.

All kidding apart—the most heart-warming letter I got in the whole campaign was from a 26-year-old German-born Canadian who told me how proud he is to be able to cast the first vote of his life for me.

'Bigger and Better' Theme For Lumby Days Committee

By ALLEYNE TULL
Lumby—'Bigger and Better' is the theme for the 1962 Lumby Days committee. Committee officials feel that after a slow beginning, community support is now setting the tempo needed for real success. They expect to have all plans finalized at the next meeting to be held June 21.

One of the features that has been finalized to date is the senior baseball tournament. Organizer Greg Dickson reports that seven teams will be participating starting at 1 p.m. Sunday when Head Of The Lake square off with Enderby. At 3:30 Falkland and Chase will clash then at 6 p.m., it will be Sleamouth vs Lumby. Revelstoke gets the by until Monday at 2 p.m. But the first game Monday will commence at 9 a.m. Final game to decide the winners will go at 4:30 p.m.

PRIZE MONEY
Prize money should buy a few bats and balls too. First is $130, second $100 and third $50. Tournament rules stipulate seven-inning games, maximum time 2-1/4 hours, uniforms, no tardiness.

Game will be called at the end of fifth inning if team is losing by ten or more points and that all players must be registered in the North Okanagan League and playing with their team this season, which is intended to be the groundwork for a snappy, interesting competition for spectator and player alike.

WE'LL WIN
Of Lumby, Mr. Dickson says, "Lumby does not have a senior team as such, but will enter a team up of SOK'M players and other local ball players who are too old to play SOK'M ball. Don't let this deceive you, we intend to win the tournament."

Immediately after the final game there will be bingo for prizes totalling $1,000.

Through Monday there will also be the parade, fish derby for the children in the swimming pool with log rolling to follow the unbeaten record of Enderby's Cashmere Felix can be challenged. There will also be the usual tug-of-war and power saw competitions and more to be announced June 21.

IN OTHER LUMBY NEWS:
Special event at Lumby United Church last Thursday was the C.G.I.T., fifth annual mother and daughter banquet. Special surprise for the mothers were corsages, courtesy Albert's Nurseries.

Unusual place cards enchanted the tables. The girls had painted pine cones in C.G.I.T. colors of blue and white and attached their mother's name along with a little prayer.

It was a special evening for Marlene McLennan too when she was initiated into the club. There were many toasts and replies, a good sing song lead by Gay Ingalls, then guest speaker, Harold Bartholomew led them through the many channels of the Old Testament.

The Ashton Creek school has received a visit from the education secretary and suggestions were made by the principal, Mrs. Kirkpatrick which will be considered by the IODE.

Two extra prizes will be provided, one for each room, given for progress. This would be in addition to the prize available for each of the seven grades for the pupils with the highest standing. The two silver sports cups which are rewarded annually are now being ordered.

It has been decided to hold the annual IODE smorgasbord supper on June 17, in the Riverside Hall, from 5-7 p.m.

Motorbike Driver Cleared By RCMP In Lumby Accident

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Lumby detachment RCMP has branded as "absolutely incorrect" the statement in a Vernon semi-weekly paper that "charges are pending against the driver of the motorcycle" in an accident on Whitevale Road last Friday.

"There is absolutely no evidence of excessive speed or negligence. The only fault against driver, Barry Thomson, is that he was driving contrary to restrictions on his driver's licence. Because he was a minor, he needed his licence punched to qualify his driving motorcycle," said RCMP.

In reconstructing the accident, RCMP were not completely discounting the fact it is possible the passenger had inadvertently thrown the bike off balance.

Driver was 20-year-old Barry Thomson, who sustained minor injuries while passenger, William Wilson, 22, is still reported to be in fair condition.

In other Lumby news: Sunday was a very special day for Lumby's Mrs. Annie Ross. It was a special open house to celebrate her eightieth birthday. Presents to the Daily Courier, old Postions were made by the Pythian Office Building, Vernon, or Sisters and the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 107, for long and faithful service.

Cadet Kenneth Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ronald Carpenter, 3104 31st Avenue, Vernon, was among the 85 graduates in the parade at Le College militaire royal de Saint-Jean. ENDERBY (Correspondent) — Scavenger hunt was the main activity for the Enderby Boy Scouts when they met Tuesday night.

The hunt made up in the form of a general clean-up of articles such as paper, nails and pieces of wood off the city streets.

A talk was given on the upkeep of the Legion Hall where the Scouts hold their meeting. It was decided that at the end of every meeting all articles are to be replaced and no shunting must take place in the hall.

Several second class tests about young British motives were passed by the 14 boys attending.

HALF CITIZENS TAKE SABIN

VERNON (Staff) — Sabin oral polio vaccine has now been given to 22,976 persons in the North Okanagan, about 50 per cent of the population, health authorities announced.

Vernon residents totalled 9,980 shots, or about 94 per cent. The clinic is open for oral polio vaccine until Saturday, 9 p.m., the final day in the North Okanagan.

LONDON (CP) — Canadian-born film producer Ron Kelly, 32-year-old brother of actress Barbara Kelly, has won a special European television award for his 30-minute documentary about young British motives called "The Tearaways." It will be screened by the BBC.

Philip's Conference Success May Bring More Meetings

VANCOUVER (CP) — Officially, no conclusions are reached by the Duke of Edinburgh's Second Commonwealth Study Conference, which ended here Wednesday.

But individually, the 300 delegates to the 25-day traveling seminar obviously have concluded it was a tremendous success and that more such conferences should be staged to promote international understanding.

"The conference is the answer to a lot of frictions in the world today," said Michael S. Elder of Jamaica, one of several delegates questioned in a random sampling of opinion about the effectiveness of the project.

"It proves how everybody of different race, color and outlook can get together in harmony and discuss their problems, having their differences, of course, but coming to a common, ultimate conclusion for the good of all."

M. O. Elebesunu of Lagos, Nigeria, said "the very idea of the conference is most laudable because apart from the study of our subject matter, the idea of getting 300 people from all parts of the Commonwealth together appears to be the most effective way of creating understanding among nations."

Philip's conference, established at the suggestion of Prince Philip who was scheduled to deliver the closing address today, was built around the theme of "human consequences of the changing industrial environment."

It brought delegates from 35 Commonwealth countries together in Montreal May 13 and took them, together and in separate groups, to communities across the country.

Their deliberations were held in private, with the intention of encouraging uninhibited debate, and no formal statements of the results have been issued.

Mr. Elder, 28, director and personnel manager of Seaforth Sugar and Rum Ltd., and amateur golf champion of Jamaica, said the conference has made him very aware of our future planning for our companies; of certain steps we may take in mechanization and automation in Jamaica. It is coming, and now I am aware of the necessity for the correct planning as to how it is going to affect the human beings involved in this transition stage."

Mr. Elder said he had seen the effects of automation in the transit system and in a large industrial operation in Toronto, in industry in Owen Sound and particularly on the Prairie farms where "one man alone farms 300 to 600 acres himself."

Mr. Elebesunu, 49, controller of staff and buildings in the Nigerian ministry of communications, said he believes in the Nigerian ministry of communications, said he believes in the

CHA Wants Revenue Hike To Be Allowed By Gov't

EDMONTON (CP)—The Canadian Hospital Association wants a number of federal government regulations changed to allow hospitals to increase their revenue.

The CHA's annual meeting passed four resolutions so far concerning provisions of hospital care insurance plans set up in all provinces as a result of the 1957 federal Hospital Insurance and Diagnostic Services Act.

The assembly asked that the federal government pay for depreciation on buildings and interest on capital debts owed by hospitals. It asked that these payments be included in the amounts given hospitals by the government under the Federal revenue caused financial hardship to hospitals.

The board of directors of CHA was instructed to study all provincial hospital insurance plans in operation in Canada and report the weaknesses and good points of each plan to the appropriate provincial hospital association.

The provincial association then would be able to work for improvement of the plan.

The CHA assembly voted to ask that hospital construction and renovation be included in provincial and federal government financial assistance under winter works programs.

An increase in the amount of construction grants to hospitals from the federal government was requested.

The federal government was asked to find a solution for the financial burden placed on hospitals for the chronically ill by those patients without enough money to pay for needed treatment.

Medical care for the chronically ill does not benefit from the various provincial hospital insurance plans, the assembly said.

Another resolution objected to hospitals being named sole beneficiaries of any legal sweepstakes established in Canada. It did not come up with a policy statement on whether it would instruct member hospitals to refuse money from sweepstakes.

The assembly reaffirmed that the CHA did not want hospitals to be forced to provide unemployment insurance for their staff. Under an arrangement with the Unemployment Insurance Commission, hospitals can provide coverage voluntarily.

Elected CHA president was Chief Judge Nelles V. Buchanan of Edmonton. First vice-president is A. H. Westbury of Montreal, second vice-president is C. E. Barton of Regina and treasurer is Dr. J. E. Sharpe of Toronto.

West Berliners boycott the line, although it is sometimes more convenient than the West Berlin buses, streetcars and subway.

With Age Comes Wisdom For Returning Officer

GALT, Ont. (CP)—William C. Woods was one of the youngest returning officers in the country in 1938 when he was appointed for Waterloo South riding at the age of 31.

Today he is the most senior in the land in the length of service and with age has come wisdom.

For 22 years, whenever there was an election, he ran the show in his southwestern Ontario constituency. Then, two years ago, he had a better idea. "I appointed my wife Elizabeth as election clerk. Now she runs the election. I just help her out."

Mr. Woods hasn't always had such good luck with his aides. During one of his first campaigns, 1938 or 1940, "my deputy returning officer died at five minutes to nine on election day."

With the polls due to open in five minutes, Mr. Woods elevated his election clerk to deputy returning officer and "pulled somebody in, off the street to act as clerk."

"I kept my eye on that poll all day."

MISSING ONE VOTE
Since appointed returning officer in September, 1938, he has officiated in two by-elections, a plebiscite and six of the seven general elections.

In the federal vote of 1945 he was on leave as a staff captain attached to radar and research groups at National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa.

Mr. Woods knows both sides of the election picture. He served on the town council of adjacent Preston, Ont., where he lives, and was on the Waterloo County council.

He was mayor of Preston in 1955, '56 and '57 and today is reeve.

When he stepped in in 1938, there were 69 polls and "between 18,000 and 20,000 persons" in Waterloo South.

"There are exactly 34,033" eligible voters in the traditionally Conservative riding.

Mr. Woods runs the election affairs from an office next door to the finance company he operates.

On election night he moves his headquarters into the offices of the Galt Reporter and credits his liaison with the newspaper for his record of being one of the first returning officers to report complete returns each election.

His forte has always been organization and he credits this to his philosophy that "the great secret of success is finding ordinary people to help. They're better than any professionals."

Children Could Grow Up With 'No Tooth Ailments'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Your children could grow up without losing a single tooth from decay.

And if all preventive measures were carried out many children would have no decayed teeth at all.

This is the claim of Dr. C. R. Castaldi, professor of children's dentistry at the University of Alberta.

Dr. Castaldi, attending the national convention here of the Canadian Dental Association, said at one time a dentist who could place silver fillings in the primary teeth of children was considered a competent child dentist.

He said long term growth studies show many cases of disfiguring and crooked teeth can be prevented by treatment between the ages of six and eight. Formerly crooked teeth required extensive corrective dentistry during adolescence.

CHECK OTHER PROBLEMS
Thus, he said, the modern general practitioner no longer examines a child's mouth in terms of the number of decayed teeth present.

He looks for early signs of crowding of teeth, abnormal positions of the tongue during swallowing and determines whether habits such as thumb sucking are interfering with normal jaw development.

Food Short In E. Germany

BERLIN (AP)—The Communists publicly admitted today there are serious food shortages in East Germany.

The party newspaper Neues Deutschland called for increased efforts to produce more milk and meat to overcome deficits in many districts in state-planned quotas.

The West Berlin newspaper Der Abend described East Germany's food situation as catastrophic. It said there is scarcely enough milk for young children.

Stranded In Bush 'Picnic' Say Two Downed Fliers

VANCOUVER (CP) — An American priest and a doctor who spent almost three days in the British Columbia bush beside their downed plane describe the experience as a "picnic."

Father Tom Adams, 30, a Roman Catholic priest, and Dr. G. S. Flaherty, 62, both of Milwaukee, were found Tuesday by an RCAF search plane about 70 miles north of Fort Nelson in northeastern B.C.

They ran low on fuel Saturday and chose to land their amphibious aircraft on the Fort Nelson River.

They said in a telephone interview from Fort Nelson they were "having an enjoyable time except for worrying about our relatives, who would be worrying about us."

Father Adams said they spent much of the daytime reading, clearing the river bank around their plane and organizing their provisions—which were plentiful for their holiday trip.

Shortly before they were found by the plane, the crew of a passing river barge stopped and supplied the stranded men with a breakfast of ham and eggs, toast, jelly and coffee. But the barge had no radio and the nearest settlement was a day and a half's journey away.

When the search plane arrived, the two men used their own limited-range radio to request fuel and enough was dropped an hour later to let them fly back to civilization.

Rangers Look to Olmstead To Replace Doug Harvey

MONTREAL (CP)—The coach-hunting New York Rangers snapped up Bert Olmstead in the National Hockey League draft Wednesday and the lanky, wheat farmer from Sceptre, Sask., immediately became a prime candidate for the job vacated by Doug Harvey.

Under the system, each of the six clubs files what is called a protected list of 18 players plus two goalies, making them immune from draft calls by other clubs. It's designed to give the league balance.

Dollar's Devaluation Given New Going Over

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
The devalued Canadian dollar got another going over on the election hustings Wednesday night.

Lester B. Pearson said it's "nonsense" to say no money was lost in the attempt to avoid devaluation of the dollar, the exchange rate of which was pegged May 3 at 92½ U.S. cents.

The Liberal leader, speaking at Strathroy, Ont., had been accused by Prime Minister Diefenbaker Tuesday night of "smearing" Canada's financial integrity by suggesting there had been a "mysterious" $62,000,000 in international help since May 3 to support the dollar.

Mr. Pearson said he accepts Mr. Diefenbaker's statement that there had been no outside help. But the $62,000,000 was still a puzzling item.

"The certain fact is that the exchange fund received special support in May to the extent of 62,000,000 U.S. dollars," he said.

Mr. Diefenbaker had said Tuesday night the $62,000,000 represented "purely routine" transactions—U.S. payments for defence and other purchases in Canada, and other exchange settlements.

SPEARS ABOUT UNITY

A national flag and Canadian anthem engaged Mr. Diefenbaker's attention Wednesday. At Roberval, Que., Mr. Diefenbaker said national unity cannot exist unless there is general acceptance of these "symbols of our sovereignty" in all provinces. Later, at Chicoutimi, he said a true national spirit cannot be developed by legislation alone.

Leaders of the New Democratic and Social Credit parties dealt with the health insurance issue, on which they are poles apart.

NDP chieftain T. C. Douglas said it is a "burning social need in Canada" and accused the Progressive Conservatives of siding with the Canadian Medical Association in opposition to it.

Social Credit Leader Robert N. Thompson said the "true issue" of the election is being fought in Saskatchewan, where the provincial government and doctors are at loggerheads over a provincial health plan scheduled to start July 1.

"The people of Saskatchewan are helping to determine whether Canada will sink even further into planned welfare economy or decide on a policy of individual enterprise and buoyant economic growth," he said at Minnedosa, Man.

Today Mr. Diefenbaker takes an afternoon off from campaigning to meet the Queen Mother on her arrival at Montreal's Dorval Airport for a 10-day visit to Montreal and Ottawa. He will go on to Quebec City for an evening rally.

Mr. Pearson, on his fourth consecutive day in southwestern Ontario, swings through Lambton, Kent and Essex counties to an evening meeting at Windsor.

The two other leaders head into Saskatchewan—Mr. Douglas to Saskatoon and Mr. Thompson to Assiniboia.

Mr. Pearson, speaking to more than 1,000 at the Strathroy Arena, said the Conservatives were claiming no money was lost in the government's exchange operations.

"This is nonsense. The government used up nearly one-third of our whole reserve fund in a desperate but unsuccessful attempt to avoid devaluation."

As for the Conservative claim that the $62,000,000 received by the exchange fund since devaluation was a normal transaction, "why were the figures ever produced in a way that showed this $62,000,000 as a separate credit?" Mr. Pearson asked.

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke for 12 minutes at Jonquiere, mostly in French, about national unity.

There are distinctions between Canada's two main races, he said. "There is no question of trying to abolish these distinctions but rather to make sure that these distinctions do not become disputes."

His comments about a national flag and anthem were prompted by a welcoming speech at Roberval in which the prime minister was told it would have been a better welcome "with an official national anthem and with a real Canadian flag."

Mr. Douglas, speaking to a packed crowd of 1,500 at Port Arthur, said medical insurance is emerging as the campaign's hottest issue. Both the Conservative and Liberal parties "have backed away from facing up to this burning social need in Canada."

Mr. Thompson, speaking to 250 people at Minnedosa, said Quebec has turned to Social Credit. The party had a chance of winning some Ontario seats and would win all 17 seats in Alberta.

West Holds Trumps But—Hasn't Learned To Play

MONTREAL (CP)—The Western world holds the trump cards but has not yet learned to play them with maximum effect, Henry Cabot Lodge, director-general of the Atlantic Institute, said this week during an address to the annual dinner of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

The Atlantic Institute, a recently constituted international, non-governmental organization, he added, has been formed as an "idea factory" with the aim of correcting this situation.

"We propose ideas and actions, both long and short range, to those having authority and influence. We seek to inform and stimulate key people throughout the free world. We have offices in Paris and Washington. And we believe that if the free world were well organized we could put chairman Khrushchev out of business insofar as his capacity to harass us diplomatically is concerned."

Canadians connected with the institute are Lester B. Pearson, L. Dana Wilgress, K. H. More and H. R. MacMillan. Professor Edgar McInnes of York University, Toronto, and John Holmes, of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, are members of the research council.

Mr. Lodge's comments were contained in a text made available to the press in advance of delivery.

Yet, billions of dollars are devoted to the economies of Latin America because of their own wealthy classes lack confidence. The money is banked abroad, in Switzerland, Canada and other countries. It is not being invested by the Latins in their own countries.

More and more one hears that the alliance has got off to a shaky start, that it is time to take a new look and start afresh.

One of the best friends of the United States in Latin America told me:

"The concept of the Alliance for Progress was bold. The execution proved to be timid, bureaucratic, slow and even self-defeating. The ideas expressed by President Kennedy when he announced the alliance were revolutionary. But we see nothing but the same old state techniques, the same old programs."

The alliance was announced by President Kennedy almost 15 months ago. At Punta Del Este, Uruguay, last Aug. 5, a charter was signed. The program envisioned $20,000,000,000 in public and private investment from the United States and Europe over a 10-year period. The Latin effort was to be the equivalent of $80,000,000,000 in that period. The charter pledged the participating nations to accomplish social and economic reforms as a prerequisite for loans to speed development.

Are the reforms coming? In capital after capital, a reporter is told that there is agreement in principle that reforms are needed. There is even legislation drawn up. He is told there is a growing realization that there must be land reform, tax reform, social reform, administrative reform and more equitable distribution of wealth.

LITTLE TANGLE DONE
For the most part, it seems to be lip service. Little tangible has been done. Laws get lost in congressional committees. Politics and politicians get in the way.

One hears, over and over, this criticism: The Yankees are running around in all directions and getting nothing done. Nobody knows how much money is available for what. Funds are "committed" but not "disbursed." The money is dangled before governments as bait for

EXECUTION TIMID
One of the best friends of the United States in Latin America told me:

"The concept of the Alliance for Progress was bold. The execution proved to be timid, bureaucratic, slow and even self-defeating. The ideas expressed by President Kennedy when he announced the alliance were revolutionary. But we see nothing but the same old state techniques, the same old programs."

The alliance was announced by President Kennedy almost 15 months ago. At Punta Del Este, Uruguay, last Aug. 5, a charter was signed. The program envisioned $20,000,000,000 in public and private investment from the United States and Europe over a 10-year period. The Latin effort was to be the equivalent of $80,000,000,000 in that period. The charter pledged the participating nations to accomplish social and economic reforms as a prerequisite for loans to speed development.

Are the reforms coming? In capital after capital, a reporter is told that there is agreement in principle that reforms are needed. There is even legislation drawn up. He is told there is a growing realization that there must be land reform, tax reform, social reform, administrative reform and more equitable distribution of wealth.

LITTLE TANGLE DONE
For the most part, it seems to be lip service. Little tangible has been done. Laws get lost in congressional committees. Politics and politicians get in the way.

One hears, over and over, this criticism: The Yankees are running around in all directions and getting nothing done. Nobody knows how much money is available for what. Funds are "committed" but not "disbursed." The money is dangled before governments as bait for

Lucky Luciano 'Not Poisoned'

NAPLES Italy (AP)—Charles (Lucky) Luciano died last Jan. 26 of a heart attack and not from poison, an official Italian Medical report said today.

There had been reports that the former New York vice lord might have been poisoned to seal his lips, or taken poison to escape rearrest.

The Canadian Red Cross, formed at Toronto in 1896, now has 1,300 branches across Canada.

CALLS ON DIEM
SAIGON (AP)—John A. McConne, director of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, called on President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam today. McConne arrived Wednesday from Formosa on his first Asian tour since becoming director of the CIA. U.S. officials in Saigon refuse to discuss his activities in South Viet Nam.
